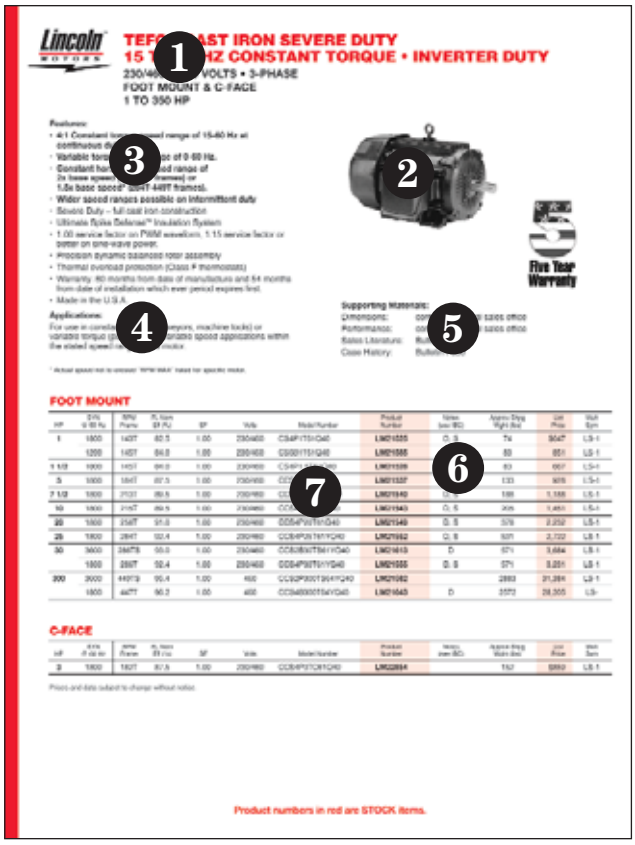
The Lincoln portion of the catalog has been designed to provide a consistent, easy-to-follow format to help you choose the best Lincoln motor for your application.



❶ Header Information

Provides a quick reference for each product family including: enclosure, product line, efficiency levels, voltage ratings, mounting configurations and horsepower range.

❷ Product Photo

Photo of the products listed in each section.

❸ Features Listing

Highlights of the major performance features of each product line. Usually references service factor, torque characteristics, multiple nameplate rating identification, general construction material, insulation rating, starting capabilities, and warranty period.

❹ Applications

Reviews the general environments and applications where this type of product family is typically utilized.

❺ Supporting Materials

Provides a quick reference for locating or ordering commonly requested information such as: dimension sheets, performance data, and sales literature.

❻ "Notes" Column

The "Notes" column provides important information related to each specific motor including:

- 50 Hertz Rating
- 208 Volt, 60 Hz Rating
- Dual Nameplating as Design B and C
- Specification approvals

❼ Extensive Model Number Listing

Over 3,000 models to make it easier to identify the exact Product Number desired.